

Events and Media Volunteer, CPRE Derbyshire

Salary: This is a voluntary role, expenses will be paid

Location: Home-based with occasional meetings, usually in Belper

CPRE fights for a better future for England's countryside, both locally and nationally. We are seeking a go-getting Events and Media Volunteer to be our first port of call for the media and for all our external communications. If think you have attributes to be part of our busy branch please do apply.

This is a great new opportunity to engage our local community with what we do, build good relationships with the media, seek press coverage, and be the face of our external communication channels, like Facebook and Twitter.

To apply, please send your CV and supporting statement FAO Tim Silvester to:
committee@cprederbyshire.org.uk

For more information about the role, please telephone Tim Silvester on: 01332 557281

Please ensure your supporting statement provides concise and specific examples to demonstrate your competencies, achievements and skills addressing the criteria listed. You should also include your contact details along with your mobile phone number and your email address.
